

WEEK 3 REFLECTION

We started learning about JavaScript in depth in this week's tutorial. I find JavaScript challenging and I took some time to understand how to implement JavaScript properly. I understand that JavaScript is required for our HTML in order for our web page to be more engaging and less monotonous. I looked at some YouTube videos and looked at some of the examples on the practical slides. It helps my comprehension of the concept. We also started learning Vue.js, which will be covered next week. I'm not acquainted with Vue yet. Therefore, I suppose it will take some time for me to understand the concept.
