WEEK 2 REFLECTION

I learned how to develop responsive features using media queries, how to write a proper user story, UI/UX design, and much more in this week's practical. I believe I have gained new knowledge, which I will incorporate into my future projects and use to create a more interactive web app. It's both fascinating and challenging to me. As a result, I spent some time on YouTube looking for tutorials so that I could quickly and properly comprehend the materials.
